THE SPOT APP

2025 saw the launch of The Spot App, a dynamic digital space designed for young people to access sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) information and supportive feminist content in one safe and easy-to-use platform. The app brings together trusted SRHR resources, bold conversations, and community support, making it simple for young people to learn, connect, and explore feminist ideas wherever they are. The Spot App is now available for download on the Google Play Store, expanding access to accurate SRHR information anytime, anywhere.

THE FEMINIST FESTIVAL

The Feminist Festival, held on 8th November, was a vibrant celebration of young women, creativity, and feminist expression under the theme "Healing Through Art." The festival brought together over 1,000 participants, creating a space for visibility, reflection, and collective learning through storytelling, visual art, and thought-provoking content, showing how creative expression can be a tool for healing and resistance.

During the festival, we also launched Legal for Her, a new initiative providing legal support for survivors of sexual and gender-based violence (SGBV), strengthening our commitment to empowerment, justice, and rights awareness. By centering lived experiences, community dialogue, and artistic expression, the festival highlighted Sistah Sistah Foundation's dedication to building inclusive spaces where young women feel seen, heard, and supported.

POUR ME A LECTURE

Sistah Sistah Foundation hosted its first-ever Pour Me a Lecture series, inviting people to “Pick a topic. Bring your unique perspective.” The series was all about creativity, learning, and sharing ideas in a space where everyone’s voice mattered.

Speakers covered exciting and thought-provoking topics like Don’t Be a Lawyer, STEM is Pink, and The History of SRHR Laws in Zambia—sparking conversations about gender stereotypes, career choices, and the progress of SRHR in Zambia.
